Good

JOIN US ON MONDAY 11 DECEMBER

Sprout is once again hosting a summer celebration of Tasmanian produce and all the people who are involved in our community.

Growing Good is dinner experience to remember, with long tables, relaxed atmosphere, incredible chefs cooking with the most awesome local Tassie produce, auction items for attendees to get excited about, awards and more.

BE PART OF SOMETHING SPECIAL

Growing Good 2023 will be held at The Agrarian Kitchen in New Norfolk. the stunning restaurant owned by Rodney Dunn and Séverine Demanet.

It is an evening experience, with over 100 people attending from right across the state.

Our keynote speaker this year is Sadie Chrestman, and during the night we be presenting the Small Producer of the Year Award, as voted by the Tassie community.

CHEFS & PRODUCE

Dinner will be cooked by a collection of amazing chefs, each curating a course for us to enjoy, with Stephen Peak once more overseeing the operation.

Produce will be supplied by our Sprout Producer alumni as well as other Tasmanian producers. With a delicious, seasonal menu to enjoy, along with heart-warming stories of amazing farmers, good music, and Tassie beverages...you won't want to miss out.

WHO COMES TO OUR EVENT

This event will draw people from every corner of the state, and not just those from the broad food and agriculture sectors in Tasmania, but anyone who wants to support what we do and enjoy amazing food.

We engage with various media outlets, including The Mercury, The Advocate and the Examiner, Tas Country Newspaper and ABC Radio (Country Hour and regular segments), The Hobart Magazine, as well as online blogs and social media platforms, promoting our event and sponsors in the lead up to, and even during the event.
